INTRODUCTION

Welcome to our community of graduate students, faculty, and staff. We hope that this guide – known in its paper version as the "Redbook" – will answer many, if not all, of your questions about procedures and programs. It is intended to provide a helpful summary of and supplement to the Dedman College Graduate Catalog. In the event of a discrepancy between these two documents, the Dedman College Graduate Catalog takes precedence.

This 2011-2012 edition of the Redbook provides guidelines for this academic year and – for entering graduate students – will continue to serve as your guide until you complete your degree requirements. Our curricula are reviewed periodically, with considerable attention given to student course evaluations. While you are with us, there may be some program changes, often in response to student suggestions. Changes in requirements are never retroactive. You may follow the guidelines in effect at the time you entered the graduate program or you may elect to adopt a subsequent set of guidelines published in a later Redbook. However, you cannot "mix and match;" you must follow all of the procedures in a given Redbook.

Beyond the Redbook, you should consult other information sources, including the Dedman College Graduate Catalog for the current year and the Schedule of Classes for the current semester. You also should consult the SMU Home Page and the Department Home Page at: http://www.smu.edu/anthro. The text of the current Redbook, with additional material and links, is incorporated into the Anthropology Department website.

INTELLECTUAL GOALS

The Department of Anthropology offers two degree programs: the MA in Medical Anthropology and the PhD in Anthropology (with an MA awarded en route to the PhD). In the PhD program, you can concentrate in Archaeology or in Cultural Anthropology either in "Medical Anthropology" or "Globalization and International Development." The details of these programs are outlined toward the end of this document (starting on page 14, and in Appendix 1 and 2). What follows is a description of the shared elements of our graduate program in anthropology.

Our program is designed to produce scholars – creative, energetic, articulate, and literate scholars. We endeavor to produce anthropologists whose research is sufficiently innovative to attract the notice of their peers, who will seek and receive rec,2,reA3of ce of e

Compensation and responsibilities will vary. Please see the Department Chair if you are interested in working in such a role.

Campus Jobs. Over the years, graduate students in anthropology have been creative in finding employment on campus beyond the Department of Anthropology. They have worked in the libraries, in other academic centers (e.g., Women's Studies Program Office), in the residence halls (as dorm directors), to name just a few. If you are being funded as a TA, DA, or GRA, before you can accept additional part-time or full-time employment on campus beyond our department, you must obtain approval from the Department Chair and the Dean of Dedman College. For more information about campus employment, contact: http://smu.edu/Financial_Aid/StEmploy.asp.

Federal Work Study Program (FWSP) and Texas College Work Study Program (TCWSP) funds

The Robert Van Kemper Endowment Fund for Research in Social and Cultural Anthropology

Graduate Studies, Room 342 Dallas Hall, SMU Box 240. The sponsoring faculty member should send a letter of recommendation directly to the Dean of Research and Graduate Studies.

ISEM Research Grants. The Institute for the Study of Earth and Man (ISEM) occasionally has funding for graduate student research. Proposals are accepted on a rotating basis. You should prepare a short proposal and a budget. This should be approved with a letter of support from your faculty Advisor, submitted to the Chair of the Department for signature, and then submitted to Dr. Louis Jacobs, Director of the Institute.

Teaching Opportunities for Students with MA Degrees

Adjunct Lectureships. A limited number of opportunities are available each term (fall, spring, and summer) for students with MA degrees in Anthropology to teach courses independently. The compensation is determined on a per course basis and does not necessarily involve remission of tuition/fees or provision of insurance coverage.

2) TAs, please take special note: It is the responsibility of the undergraduate students in your classes to submit their coursework either electronically or as hard copy as specified by you or the instructor. If you or the instructor specifies that electronic copies are acceptable, they will not be printed by the department.

3) The copier is not to be used by graduate students for printing required readings from your courses; the printer is not to be used for your research papers or exams. If, however, your course instructor requires that you bring to class copies of an assignment for distribution to all members of the class, these items are to be sent to Tiffany Powell, or Pamela Hogan for copying/printing.

Students can pay for personal printing at any of the on-campus libraries using their SMU id card.

Leaves of Absence for Medical, Familial, and Personal Purposes

We have procedures in place for ensuring that you can maintain your status in our graduate program even if you encounter a medical, familial, or personal situation that prevents you from attending classes or otherwise participating in the program for an extended period. Please consult with your Advisor, and if needed with the Department Chair, for the best path to follow for your particular case. It is important to have written documentation of your need for medical, familial, or personal leave of absence from the program.

If you have taken a leave of absence for any reason and wish to reinstate yourself in the program, you must contact the Chair of the Department before the end of the first month of the semester preceding the semester in which you plan to reenroll.

Academic Appeals

You are entering a large and complicated organization. We try to be fair to all our members and to uphold high standards of academic training. Your performance in all coursework, and as a Graduate Assistant/Teaching Assistant, is regularly monitored by the faculty. In addition, you are expected to maintain the highest standards of professional responsibility during your graduate student career. Your grades and any written evaluations by those involved in your training will be kept in your file. These are available for your inspection, since we want you to know just where you stand.

Should you wish to appeal a decision concerning your progress, your faculty Advisor will help you find appropriate channels. Remember, appeals can be handled within the Department either through your Graduate Representative at the monthly faculty meetings or through the advising system. It has been our experience that most appeals taken first to the Administration are promptly sent back to the Department for consideration.

Representation

Each year the graduate students elect a member to represent them at our monthly faculty meetings. Your Graduate Student Representative is there to communicate the interests of the students in departmental affairs and to present to the faculty any student-generated proposals.

Students with an extensive background in anthropology may be credited (course waived with or your petition. No waivers or credits will be given for ANY course for which there is no supporting documentation.

In general, only courses for which you earned an A- or better (or its equivalent) can be waived or transferred. In cases where letter grades are not available (for example, for courses taken at some foreign universities), an explanation of the grade from the professor of record will be required.

Required Courses

Courses can be waived and credit hours granted as meeting SMU requirements only if they are deemed equivalent to our courses. Even if a course taken elsewhere is not deemed to be equivalent to a required course, you subsequently can petition to have the course transferred within the limits imposed for elective hours. For example, you may have taken a course in the history of ethnological theory. Such a course would not be equivalent to our ANTH 5334, a required course that covers the history of all four sub-fields of anthropology, but the course you took still might be considered for waiver/credit as an elective course.

Elective Hours

If you enter our graduate program with an earned Masters Degree, you may petition to transfer up to 18 elective hours in Archaeology and up to 15 in Cultural Anthropology (the difference between the two programs is based on differences in the proportion of elective to required hours in these programs). An elective course (e.g., Peoples of the Antarctic) with no equivalency in our program will be considered for transfer credit only if taken during graduate studies.

Petition Process

At your earliest opportunity, you should notify your advisor if you intend to petition for course waivers and/or credits. For courses intended to meet SMU requirements, the material is submitted to the Department Chair, and the Instructor of Record for the particular course for which you are seeking waiver/credit. In addition, all faculty members are notified of the petition, and will have the materials available to them. In the case of petitions for waivers/credits of elective courses, your petition will be circulated to members of the appropriate sub-disciplinary faculty, either archaeology or cultural anthropology.

STANDARDS AND EVALUATION

Standards of Performance in All Programs

1. As per Dedman College rules, graduate students must maintain at a minimum a cumulative GPA of 3.0. If in any term the student falls below this GPA, the student will be placed on probation for one term. If at the end of the term of probation the cumulative GPA is not up to a 3.0, the student will be removed from the program. Grades consistently at the minimum level will keep you off probation, but may not be satisfactory for sustaining financial support through the Department.
2. Any grade below a "B- (2.7) in a required course must be raised to an acceptable level. This may be accomplished by retaking the course (without formal registration) or adjusted

2. Ability to organize materials and ideas in an effective way.
3. Evidence of working effectively with others (students, colleagues) in cooperative settings.
4. Willingness to invest extra time and effort (beyond minimal or "adequate" levels) and see that undergraduate students learn and understand course materials.
5. High ethical standards in relationships with students and professors.

Performance in Research and Fieldwork

1. High ethical standards in relationship with research community and with professors in the field or in the academic setting. Plagiarism, fabrication, cheating, and facilitating academic dishonesty are all unacceptable, and will be dealt with in accordance with the policies of the SMU Honor System (as detailed in the Dedman College Graduate Programs Catalog, and at smu.edu/studentlife/). Students should consult the SMU Policy & Procedures for dealing with scientific conduct in research. This policy is available in the Departmental Office.
2. Ability to apply anthropological concepts in the field.
3. Ability to engage in cooperative teamwork with other students and faculty in the field, whether in the United States or abroad.
4. Evidence of flexibility and adaptability to field settings.

Written Statement of Evaluation

Following each end-of-semester faculty meeting, you will receive a written statement from the department chair regarding the faculty's assessment of your performance and recommendations for improvements. A copy of the statement will be placed in your departmental file.

Removal from Program and Appeals

In accordance with Dedman College rules, failure to meet established minimum acceptable standards of academic or disciplinary performance can result in suspension or dismissal. Suspension is for a set period of time. Dismissal is permanent. Should your performance be judged so unsatisfactory that suspension or dismissal is recommended, that decision will be made by majority vote of the departmental faculty and communicated to you by the department chair. Appeals of such decisions must be presented to the faculty as a whole. Subsequent appeals, if any, will be dealt with according to standard University procedures.

Language Requirement

Since it is essential for professional anthropologists to be familiar with foreign languages, both in fieldwork and in reading scholarly literature, you should strive to attain a high level of competence with at least one foreign language. This is a requirement for all doctoral students and is encouraged for students in the MA in Medical Anthropology program. For further information, please consult the program-specific language requirements described later in this handbook, as well as Appendix 3 (Language Examination). These requirements should be satisfied as soon as possible (usually by the end of the second year), since by so doing you will be able to use the language as a tool in preparing for your PhD Qualifying Examination. The Department will not pay for you to take language courses.

Important note: the language requirement must be satisfied before you take your PhD Qualifying exams.

Archaeology students must demonstrate an ability to read research literature published in a modern foreign language such as French, German, Spanish, or Russian. You may petition the faculty if you wish to substitute another language or languages. Students in Cultural Anthropology must demonstrate knowledge of the language most relevant to their field research.

THE PHD PROGRAM IN THE DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY: DEPARTMENT AND UNIVERSITY GUIDELINES AND REQUIREMENTS

In this section we address shared elements of the PhD program in Anthropology, a program

Graduation Ceremonies and Doctoral Hooding

SMU grants doctoral degrees three times a year: in May, August, and December. Depending on when you submit the final, corrected version of your dissertation to the office of the Dean of Graduate Studies, you should plan on participating in the University's graduation ceremonies (including doctoral hooding) either in May or December. In either case, we invite you to participate in our departmental graduation ceremonies in May of the academic year in which you receive your doctoral degree.

Failing the Doctoral Defense

Students who fail the doctoral defense may be given a second examination, at a time to be determined by the committee, but not later than one year after the initial examination. Students who fail the defense on the second opportunity are thereby disqualified to receive the PhD degree.

Time Limits

If you are registered for full-time study, you should plan on taking the PhD

STATEMENT OF NONDISCRIMINATION

Southern Methodist University will not discriminate in any employment practice, education program, or educational activity on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, or veteran status. SMU's commitment to equal opportunity includes nondiscrimination on the basis of sexual orientation. The Office of Institutional Access and Equity (http://www.smu.edu/aao/) has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the nondiscrimination policies and may be contacted at Southern Methodist University, Dallas TX 75275; 214-768-3601, or by e-mail at accessequity@smu.edu.

DEGREE PROGRAMS IN THE DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY

THE MA DEGREE IN MEDICAL ANTHROPOLOGY

ANTH 6307: Seminar in International Health
ANTH 6316 or 6317: Advanced Seminar in Ethnology (medical topic)
ANTH 6344: Global Population Processes
ANTH 6384: Global Issues and Development: An Overview
ANTH 6390/6391: Current Issues in Anthropology

Note: For non-medical anthropology coursework, you are encouraged to consult with the Instructor and to develop a research project/paper topic for the course that has a health focus.

For courses outside of the anthropology department, you must obtain the approval of your Advisor before enrolling. You should also discuss your enrollment in these courses with the Instructor of Record in the appropriate department or school. You may have the option of taking these courses, particularly those in the Law School, on a "Pass/Fail" basis. This option should be discussed with the Instructor and your Advisor, before enrolling. You should be aware that the calendars of the professional schools may differ from that of Dedman College.

Field/Clinical Experience

An internship with a field or clinical component is an intrinsic part of the MA program. This will involve your participation in some extramural medical, anthropological, or medical research project, clinic, facility or agency. You should identify the agency, facility, or program where you want to work by the end of your 2nd semester. The internship/experience should last approximately 8-10 weeks with between 10 and 20 hours of service each week. Work may be limited to observation, or may be more involved, and may or may not involve an independent research question. A

THE PHD DEGREE IN CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY

Introduction/Overview

In the PhD program in Cultural Anthropology, you will be trained broadly in contemporary theory and method in anthropology, while you specialize in one of two tracks: Medical Anthropology or Globalization and International Development. In special circumstances, you can petition to combine these specializations.

As noted above, upon arriving you should select a faculty Advisor. The Cultural Anthropology faculty will guide you toward the goal of completing all coursework in three years, and the dissertation within five years, thus meeting all Dedman College and Department requirements.

Please see Appendix 1 for a typical sequencing and timetable in the Cultural Anthropology program.

Residency and Course Work

Required Courses (27 hours)

ANTH 5334 - History of Anthropology, Part I
ANTH 5335 – History of Anthropology, Part II
Statistics 2331 (6351) or other

The Statistics requirement may be waived with a grade of B or better in an undergraduate course for which you submit a syllabus to be reviewed. You may take STAT 2331 to meet the requirement by enrolling in an independent study (ANTH 6351). You may enroll in STAT 5371 and/or 5372 if you want more advanced statistical training. These courses will fulfill the requirement and are suggested for students with strong math backgrounds. Please discuss these options with your Advisor.

PhD Qualifying Examination

Admission to Candidacy

To be admitted to candidacy, you must satisfy the language requirement, remove all Incomplete grades, complete the required minimum of 54 hours of coursework (including any credits/waivers for courses taken elsewhere), and pass the PhD qualifying examination. Upon completion of these requirements, the department will recommend to the Dean that you be admitted to candidacy. Supporting documents will include a copy of your degree plan and the qualifying examination report (ORGS Form 1).

Qualifying Exam Committee

Upon successful completion of the MA general examination, you should meet with your Advisor for the purpose of naming the chair and other members of your PhD Qualifying Exam committee. This committee must be set up in accordance with University guidelines and approved by the committee chair. The list of members then should be filed with the Department, and will be placed in your file and forwarded to the Dean of Graduate Studies.

Before the first day of class of the fifth semester (or after completion of 36 hours of coursework), students should meet with the departmental members of their PhD qualifying exam committee to establish the regional and theoretical foci for the PhD qualifying exams. Once this has been determined, the appropriate form should be signed

North Asia (includes China, North and South Korea, Japan, Taiwan, and Tibet)

South Asia (includes Pakistan, India, Nepal, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka)

Southeast Asia (mainland and islands – Myanmar (Burma), Thailand, Laos, Cambodia, Vietnam, Malaysia, Indonesia, the Philippines, and aboriginal Taiwan)

Australia and Oceania

By the end of the fifth semester (or after completion of 45 hours of coursework) at the latest, the student should meet with the internal members of the PhD qualifying committee to have the bibliographies approved. The chair of the committee will confer with the outside member of the PhD qualifying exam committee to secure that individual's approval of the bibliographies. Once approved, the form for approval of the bibliographies should be signed and filed together with the two bibliographies. Following the approval of the bibliography by committee members, students may propose to add new items to the list but committee members may not. The student should be provided with a copy of the filed form.

Note: No faculty member is obligated to serve on your PhD qualifying committee. Nor are you obligated to have any specific faculty member on your committee.

The Written PhD Qualifying Examination

The PhD Qualifying Examination consists of two parts: a take-home written exam and a proposal defense.

No later than the sixth week of the sixth semester (or no later than the sixth week of the semester in which you are completing coursework), you will take a written PhD Qualifying Examination. This exam will be tailored to your research topic, and will be set and eva

Option 1 -- If the committee decides that you have passed the written component of the qualifying exam, then the committee chair will meet with you to convey the committee's views regarding the strengths and weaknesses of the papers. Copies of the committee member's written comments will be provided to you and also will be placed in your departmental file.

Option 2 --

The PhD Proposal Defense can occur no later than the final day of classes of the final semester of coursework (normally, the sixth semester in residence or the fourth semester in

Writing Your Dissertation

When you return from the field, you must develop a detailed outline for the dissertation. This outline must be shared with and approved by all members of the dissertation committee. Once approved, this outline will serve as the basis for preparing the dissertation.

Committee members must receive a draft of the entire dissertation, already vetted by the

THE PhD PROGRAM IN ARCHAEOLOGY

The Archaeology program at SMU is largely focused on the New World, with faculty research interests ranging from the earliest hunter-gatherers to complex societies across North, Middle, and South America. The program offers broad training in contemporary archaeological theory, method, and scientific application, and is strongly field-oriented, with current projects in various localities in the Americas.

Upon arriving you should select a faculty Advisor (see page 2 of this document). The Archaeology faculty will guide you toward the goal of completing all coursework in three years, and the dissertation within five years of advancing to candidacy, thus meeting all Dedman College requirements.

Fifty-four (54) hours of coursework are required. You can waive up to 24 hours for equivalent coursework (18 hours elective courses plus 6 hours field school) taken before you entered the

ANTH 6369 – South American Archaeology
ANTH 7312 – Archaeology of Mesoamerica
ANTH 7318 – Late Pleistocene Prehistory of North America
ANTH 7321 – Ceramic Analysis for Archaeologists

Note: With the advice and consent of your Advisor, you may choose other courses offered within the Department or University as electives.

Group C: Field Courses: up to 6 hours maximum

ANTH 5381, 5382, 5681, 5981 – Field Methods in Archaeology

All graduate students must complete an archaeology field school of field experience equivalent prior to or during their time at SMU. A waiver for this requirement can be granted if you have completed a field school or have sufficient field supervisory experience prior to entering the SMU graduate program. Your waiver will be signed by the faculty member currently responsible for teaching the SMU archaeology field school.

Group C includes various workshops in Archaeological Sciences for 2 or 3 hours credit offered occasionally at Fort Burgwin. Register for these courses under a Research in Anthropology number.

MA General Examination

Upon entering the graduate program (i.e., during your first week in the department), you will receive a list of 24 questions. These questions will serve as the pool from which will be drawn some of the specific questions on your MA general examination, taken at the end of your fourth semester. You will be required to provide answers to four of these questions during a one-day written exam (two covering archaeological theory and method in the morning, and two on aspects of world prehistory during the afternoon). There will also be two questions (an additional one in the morning and one in the afternoon) that are not on that list of 24 questions, but will be based on material from your year(s) of study.

Note: If you enter our program with a Master's degree in anthropology, you will be expected to take the MA general examination at the end of your second semester of classes.

Note: If you have not completed an archaeology field school or had equivalent archaeology field training, you must do so prior to taking the MA general examination.

Note: No MA general examination may take place in the summer.

The exam will be administered toward the end of your fourth semester (second semester for entrants with an MA in Anthropology), the date to be determined based on that semester meeting and class calendar. The date will be announced at the beginning of the semester. Answers will be prepared on computer, and be anonymous. You will have 3 hours in the morning, and 3 hours in the afternoon, to answer each set of three questionsETBT1 0 0 1 526.66l17.57to

Schedule – the proposal defense can occur no later than the last day of the exam week at the end of your final semester of coursework.

You will defend the proposal orally before your committee. Introduce the topic in a 10-15 minute presentation. Visual aids are encouraged, but not required. Questions from the committee will follow. Suggestions for changes or improvements made by the committee during the defense should be included in the final draft of your research proposal.

Once approved by the committee, the final draft must be submitted to a funding agency.

> Note: It is your responsibility to adhere to the schedules, to ensure adequate time for resubmitting revised drafts, and to ascertain that all committee members will be available for the exam and defense. It is your Advisor's responsibility to schedule the exam and defense times and locations with the Departmental Administrative Assistant.

APPENDIX 1: PROJECTED SEQUENCE AND TIMETABLE: CULTURAL PROGRAM

A typical schedule for your first several years in the program follows. Do not expect the courses to be offered in the exact order as shown. Also, the research and teaching schedules of each student will vary depending on funding opportunities, and previous teaching experience. Finally,
